

The Move!!!

Contributed by Jack Chambers
Monday, 01 June 2009

The Move to New York....

Hello!!!! It been ages, since I have written on here. this site totally needs a proper design....i will get on to that as soon as I can! But first an update!

I can now officially say that I am based in New York City!!! I just finished furnishing my apartment a few weeks ago, so I am very excited! At the moment, I am in Brisbane though, because I have been flown back to perform at Creative Generation 2009 performance - for Queensland's 150th Anniversary. This is on the 6th June. Then I head down to Sydney to collect my VISA (not a credit card visa, my working visa so I can legally work in the states) and then I shoot back over to NYC on the 17th June...where I will live for 3 years!(so far)

So that is whats happening at the moment. Of course it was a long process (over 6 months) to get to this point...but it was worth it!

I hope everyone is happy and healthy.

Until next time.

Love JACK.